Level 3 - Principles of End of Life Care

Course Overview

- ◆ Our free and flexible distance learning courses are a great way to build your CV and demonstrate your commitment to continued professional development. Subject to eligibility, this course is free if you do not already hold a Level 3 qualification or equivalent.
- ◆ All of our distance learning courses are learner-led and you do not need to be in employment to study. This qualification is intended for those who work in the Health and Social Care sector whose role includes caring for those who have a life-limiting illness.
- ◆ You will study via an online portfolio using a range of supplied resources. An individual tutor will be allocated to you, and they will support you throughout your learning journey. This course can be started at any time and learning can be undertaken at your own pace following submission deadlines.
- ◆ Throughout the course you will explore common questions and themes in end of life care and the range of possible approaches to end of life care. This qualification will provide you with information on how to support a person's familial, spiritual, social and emotional needs and will prepare you to confront issues of death and bereavement within your role.
- ◆ At the end of the course you will achieve a nationally recognised Level 3 Certificate in Principles of End of Life Care qualification.

Eligibility

- ◆ In order to complete this distance learning course at no charge you must not already hold a level 3 qualification or equivalent.
- ◆ To be eligible for this course you must be over 19 years of age and have been a resident of the UK or Europe for more than three years. If you do not hold a UK passport you must be able to provide evidence of a visa and an alternative passport.
- ◆ If you are between the age of 19 to 24, you must already hold a level 2 qualification or equivalent.
- ◆ As part of the enrolment, you will be asked about your employment status. If you are employed, pre-enrolment checks on your annual gross income will be made and you will be asked to provide two wage slips from the last three months; in order to complete this distance learning course at no charge. If you are claiming benefits, you will be asked to provide proof of receipt.

Duration

- ◆ You will study the course over a period of ten months, with regular dates of submission for each of the modules associated with the course.

How is it delivered?

- ◆ You will be required to read the learning materials and answer the questions related to the topic, reflecting on work and personal experience in your answers. We always recommend that you try and spend four to five hours a week working on your course in order to achieve deadlines.

Learning Methods

- ◆ Studying via distance learning means that you can complete this course using workbooks and a BCoT online portfolio.
- ◆ When studying online, you will be given a login to access your portfolio and submit your answers based on the information in the workbooks.
- ◆ Alternatively, there are options to study fully online through the portfolio platform or via paper based learning for all reading and assessments.

Course Modules

There are five modules to complete for this course:

- ◆ Unit 1: Understanding end of life care
- ◆ Unit 2: Communication during end of life care
- ◆ Unit 3: Assessment and care planning in end of life care
- ◆ Unit 4: Person-centred approaches to end of life care
- ◆ Unit 5: Care during the final hours of life and bereavement care
